

“All Enemies Foreign and Domestic”

Protecting Those Who Support and Defend

There is a third natural enemy constantly threatening military operations. Lightning.

Florida is home to 21 military bases. Every branch of the United States Armed Forces is domiciled in the state, alongside three unified combatant commands. Military accounts for ten percent of Florida’s total economy.

Bonded Lightning Protection is Florida’s largest and oldest lightning protection contractor. For more than 50 years we have evolved as a specialist provider to the military and its support businesses. Our systems and solutions are direct purposed to protect military operations’ advanced electrical infrastructure and structures.

Bonded solutions advance larger military goals.

UNINTERRUPTED OPERATIONS

Defense systems must operate perpetually without disruption.

REDUNDANCY

Redundancy in military systems eliminates single points of failure.

MISSION READINESS

Reliable power and power sources ensure military equipment and technology are continuously action ready.

ADAPTABILITY

As the military evolves to require more sophisticated technologies, those enabling systems like unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs), drones, and high-energy lasers, uninterrupted power is essential.

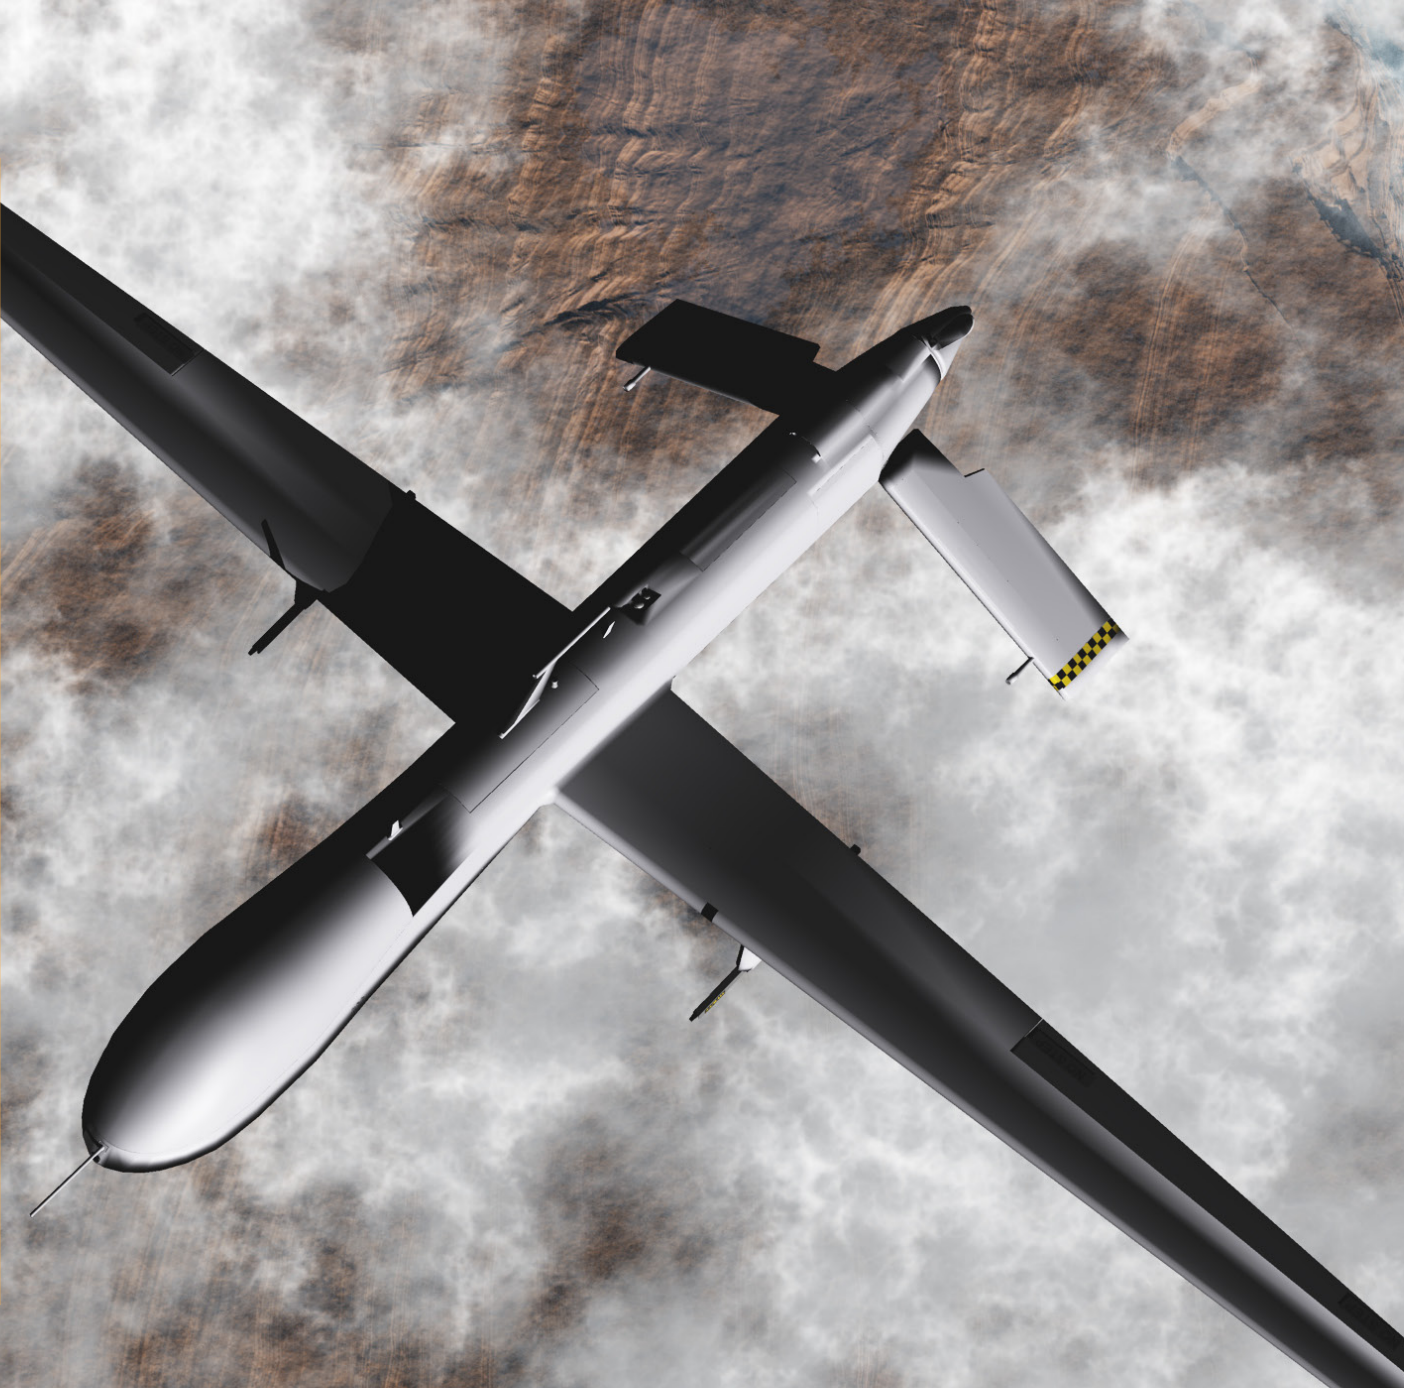

Whether yours is a structure owned and operated by the U.S. military or a support business dedicated to military operations, Bonded Lightning Protection is a preferred contractor. Self-performed installation ensures only our professionals enter and engage the most sensitive sites. These team members hold the necessary safety and background certifications to expeditiously access sites in Florida, and across North America.

Ours is the back office already steeped in your processes and procedures. This efficiency is your speed to operations.

In-house design ensures your military site or support structure isn’t relegated to cookie cutter solutions.

System design is specific to the operations of the structure.
